STRATEGIC PRIORITIES 2018 – 2020

COMMITTED TO TARGETED ACTION, RESULTS AND MONITORING UNDER A COMPREHENSIVE FRAMEWORK

Every three to four years, the partners revise the dialogue's strategic framework, thereby addressing the evolving realities of Migration and Mobility. The Fifth Euro-African Ministerial Conference on Migration and Development, held on 2 May 2018, set the priorities for the period between 2018-2020 in the Marrakesh Declaration and Action Plan.

MARRAKESH ACTION PLAN: 5 DOMAINS – 10 OBJECTIVES – 23 ACTIONS

CONCRETE ACTIONS, COMMITTED PARTNERS

The Marrakesh Action Plan put forward a unique commitment mechanism: On a voluntary basis, each partner country of the Rabat Process can commit to making particular efforts to implement one or more of the defined actions. The Secretariat will support these commitments according to the needs identified by the partner countries.

MONITORING THE JOINT VALLETTA ACTION PLAN

The Rabat Process has the mandate, together with the Khartoum Process, to monitor the implementation of the Joint Valletta Action Plan (JVAP). The Rabat Process' Marrakesh Action Plan is aligned to the five domains of the JVAP to foster coherence and complementarity between the regional dialogue and the Valletta framework.

The resulting JVAP Monitoring and Reporting Database is operational since end of 2017. It enables structured and automated data collection, mapping and reporting on African and European initiatives (projects and policies) funded bilaterally, through international organisations or via EU or AU institutional funding schemes.

WHAT IS THE RABAT PROCESS?

The Euro-African Dialogue on Migration and Development (Rabat Process) is an intergovernmental dialogue with a Ministerial mandate. Since 2006, the dialogue has offered a framework for consultation and operationalisation, bringing together countries of origin, transit and destination of the migration routes linking Central, West and Northern Africa with Europe. Since 2015 and the Summit on Migration of Valletta, the Rabat Process, together with the Khartoum Process, are the two regional dialogues that form the Valletta Framework and have as their mandate the monitoring of the implementation of the Joint Valletta Action Plan (JVAP).

Together, the national authorities taking part in the Rabat Process pave the way for balanced and comprehensive partnerships on migration and mobility between Africa and Europe. The dialogue is further enriched by International Organisations participating as observers, and external thematic experts.

Besides academics and think tanks, civil society organisations, including diaspora organisations and more recently the private sector have not only contributed through their expertise but also through informal consultations to help shape the action priorities of the new cooperation framework of the dialogue. This has helped ensure inclusiveness and highlighted the need for a multi-stakeholder approach to migration while preserving the intergovernmental nature of the dialogue.

The Rabat Process is:

A COMPREHENSIVE DIALOGUE:

Discussing common challenges and opportunities.

A NETWORK:

Building and enhancing Euro-African networks at technical and political levels.

A FRAMEWORK FOR ACTION:

Formulating and implementing initiatives taking into account regional specificities.

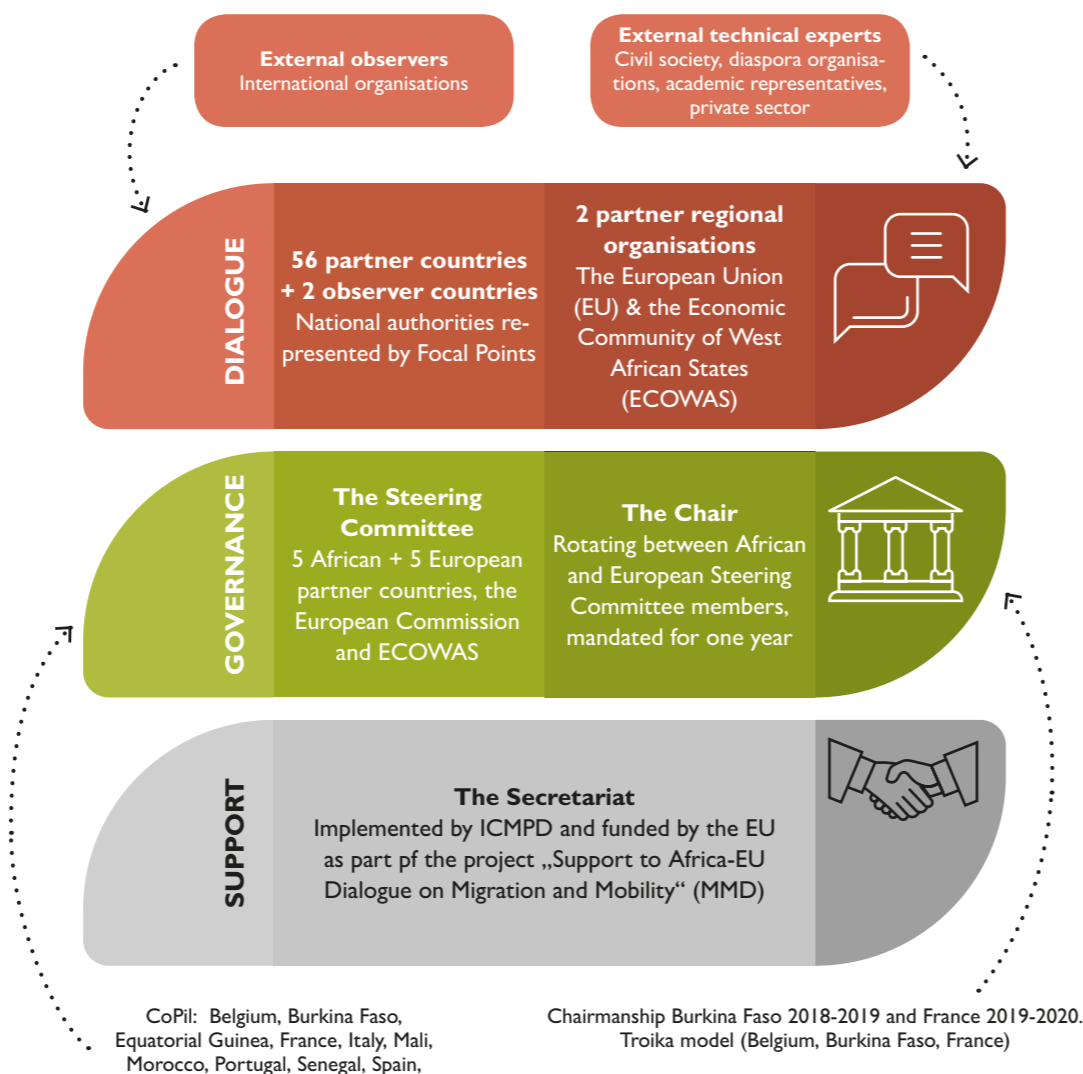

A PLATFORM FOR KNOWLEDGE-SHARING:

Sharing information on initiatives, policies and best practices.

A STRUCTURE FOR MONITORING:

Monitoring and reporting on projects and policies implemented in JVAP framework as well as in Marrakesh Action Plan.

WHO IS PART OF THE RABAT PROCESS?

The Euro-African Dialogue on Migration and Development (Rabat Process) is an intergovernmental dialogue with a Ministerial mandate.

A MULTI-LAYERED DIALOGUE

The dialogue partners meet regularly at political and technical level to tackle challenges and opportunities posed by migration and mobility under the principles of solidarity, partnership and shared responsibility.

In addition, the Rabat Process is cooperating and co-ordinating with other regional processes, such as with the Khartoum Process.

ACTIVE PARTNERS, SHAPING A STATE-DRIVEN DIALOGUE

National Focal Points are contact points within national administrations that share their knowledge at the dialogue meetings or identify national thematic experts to do so. They disseminate the dialogue's results at the national level and strengthen the sense of ownership of the dialogue. The network of National Focal Points helps to pave the way for multilateral partnerships and increased cooperation.

The Steering Committee ("CoPIL") is the strategic governing body of the dialogue. It sets strategic priorities and makes decisions for the dialogue's advancement. According to its Operating Modalities this includes stimulating cooperation between the participating States, preparing decisions on the political orientation of the dialogue and following up on the implementation of the multi-annual cooperation programmes. To ensure balanced geographic representation, the CoPIL is composed of five African and five European countries, as well as the EC and ECOWAS.

The Chair of the Steering Committee is a driving force, shaping the dialogue. Each CoPIL member may act as a chair for the duration of one year, always alternating between Africa and Europe. The Chair's role is to provide fresh impetus to the dialogue, moderate political meetings and act as a mediator between diverging positions. The chairmanship of the dialogue is based on a tripartite / Troika model including the outgoing presidency and the future presidency.

The Secretariat of the Rabat Process facilitates dialogue meetings and supports partner countries by providing expertise and knowledge, key information and access to networks. It is a demand-driven entity, accompanying the National Focal Points, the Steering Committee and its Chair as a "neutral-broker" by giving technical and policy input. The Secretariat also provides continuity and acts as the institutional memory of the Rabat Process.
